

A collage of nine photographs showing a family (mother and two children) engaged in baking Christmas cookies. The photos show the process from rolling out dough to decorating finished cookies. The collage is decorated with a red border and green and red Christmas tree cutouts.